CAREER POWERED EDUCATION

OUR COURSES PREPARE YOU FOR YOUR CAREER

At the University of Bedfordshire, our courses are designed to fully prepare you for your career, develop skills to improve your employability and give you every opportunity to practise your new skills.

Depending on the subject, they may offer:

- Industry-recognised professional accreditations
- Placements and work experience including a year in your sector
- Practice-led courses where you work on live projects
- Industry partnerships and links
- Industry talks and masterclasses
- Industry-experienced academics
- Facilities that simulate real-world settings such as hospital wards and TV studios
- Industry-standard equipment
- Embedded employability units
- Additional employability skills training
- Field trips and sector visits

How does a professional accreditation help you?

Professional bodies/organisations offer different benefits. Depending on your course, an accredited qualification may offer you:

» free or reduced student memberships
» professional qualifications in addition to your degree
» exemptions from selected units or exam papers
» the option to apply/register for full or partial chartered or professional status when you graduate » entry to trainee positions within your field.

You may also find out later that is required to work in the field – and you may not be able to ask for accreditation retrospectively.

1st

in the UK for graduate social enterprise start-ups still trading after three years (HESA spin-off activities for 2022/23, pub 2024)

The University of Bedfordshire ranks in the top 20% of UK universities for learning opportunities, including developing knowledge and skills for the future (NSS, 2024).

What do we mean by 'practice-led courses'?

Our approach to teaching and learning is 'practice led', which means you are offered many opportunities to put what you learn into practice. So, depending on your course, you may find yourself working on real-life projects and scenarios; exploring real-world case studies; practising your skills in our on-campus, simulated environments including a moot court (law); hospital ward and operating theatre (health); and crime-scene flat (forensic science).
